

ROBIN GROSS

Robin Gross brings more than twenty years of classical training and practical architectural experience to each project. She has been involved with many complex residential, commercial, and institutional projects on which her responsibilities ranged from watercolor renderings, architectural design, construction detailing, and color and material selection.

Education/Licensing

B.A., University of Florida
Architectural Studies, Laney College
Architectural Studies, City College of San Francisco
M. Arch., University of Pennsylvania
Registered Architect, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Registered Architect, State of Maryland

Experience with Allan Greenberg, Architect, LLC:

Project Architect for a new 12,000-s.f. residence in Brooklyn, NY. Project Manager and designer for a 6,000-s.f. penthouse in Miami; Project Manager for an addition, renovation, and restoration of a c. 1785 residence in historic Old Town, Alexandria, VA; and Job Captain for a 25,000-s.f. estate in New England. Other project experience includes residences in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, and California.

Additional project involvement includes the Deputy Secretary's Office Suite at the U.S. Department of State in Washington, DC; the Proposed Paternoster Square Office Buildings in London, England; and several retail projects.

Other Professional Experience:

Space planning and construction documents for office floors of Riggs Bank, Washington, DC; conversion of 19th-century manufacturing buildings to apartments in downtown Philadelphia; architectural detailing and construction documents for a residential continuing care community in Philadelphia; drawing instructor for summer studio at the University of Pennsylvania.